

Marocavie

Working together for sustainable development

Presentation

Marocavie was established in 2008 as a charitable organization formed by the co-workers of OLVEA Morocco (www.olvea.com/morocco), who wanted to participate in the sustainable development of Morocco. Marocavie is dedicated to support economic, social and environmental projects in the Southwestern part of Morocco where the argan tree forests are found.

Marocavie works with local volunteers only, and is completely free from any political or religious affiliations.

We achieve our mission by working in partnership with local communities in order to:

- improve education for children,
- provide socioeconomic opportunities for women and their families,
- prevent the spread of the desert and slowdown rural exodus.

Marocavie's core mission is best expressed by its commitment to "Helping people help themselves". This philosophical approach to sustainable development allows us to implement, evaluate and monitor our projects in order to address economic, social and environmental needs in the most efficient and effective way.

Our core values

Five values are defining our action. They are held and shared every day by the Marocavie's team:

- Focusing on the needs of the beneficiaries
- Using resources efficiently and effectively
- Being consistently honest and trustworthy
- Maintaining full transparency and accountability
- Continuously improving our charitable actions

Our projects

Orphanage Taroudant City

In the city of Taroudant, Marocavie has supported the orphanage "Centre de l'Enfance Lalla Amina" (CELAT) which houses 60 children aged from 0 to 18

In this center, Marocavie has financed all the expenses of a house where 7 children live with 2 parent-teachers: their school furniture, clothes, food, medicines, the parent-teachers salaries, etc..

Five schools in Essaouira Region

As education is proven to be one of the most important factors for sustained social and economic development, Marocavie is supporting 5 elementary schools in Essaouira Region in financing infrastructures:

- School Tabarwagte (Oulad Said city): Construction of sanitary facilities and their water connection (without sanitary, many teenagers girls are forced to leave the school system), electric connections (the village had electricity but the school was not connected), construction of a surrounding wall, paintings of the building, equipping classrooms with magnetic whiteboards, planting green space at the school entrance.
- School El Aamri: painting of the building, repairs of windows and classrooms, equipping classrooms with magnetic whiteboards.
- School Aït Hamdoune: Installation of the electric power network, increase of the depth of a well, water provided to the school, painting of the building, equipping classrooms with magnetic whiteboards.
- School Stara: Installation of the electric power network, construction of sanitary facilities and their water connection, paintings of the building, construction of a surrounding wall, installation of magnetic whiteboards.
- School Aït Laktibe: installation of the electric power network, construction of a surrounding wall, painting of the building, equipping classrooms with magnetic whiteboards.

Financing

Marocavie is financed substantially by OLVEA Morocco, which pays a percentage of its turnover for every kilo of argan oil sold. Thus, every time you buy some OLVEA Morocco argan oil from OLVEA Vegetable Oils, you are contributing to Marocavie. Customers may also make a direct donation to the organization if they want to.

In order to successfully achieve our mission and to insure proper use of the funds, Marocavie is managed by local volunteers. Being an independent and charitable organization guarantees that our donations won't be wasted in useless functioning costs or simply misappropriated.
